two brothers - stringing along

Chris & Mike are presenting their current concert programme "Smile"

Chris & Mike – a name that stands for keyboard entertainment. Whenever the two keyboard acrobats, who are renowned throughout Switzerland, appear on stage and entice lively songs or dulcet tones from their pianos, not one person in the audience will remain in his seat and not one soul will fail to be touched.

Each of their appearances is unique, sending out a wave of enthusiasm for the two entertainers, as well as giving great pleasure in their fanciful improvisation on a hundred and seventy-six keys, and in perfect combination with two voices and blues harp, plus, depending on the formation and their support by 'friends', on various instruments.

Chris & Mike do great credit to their name - Stringing along

"We love this music and are in a fresh fever of excitement at every appearance", Chris stresses. "This way, we experience every single concert and every show appearance differently and in many variations". "To be able to be on the road with a show production, as we are today, was always our greatest desire, in fact it was a musical dream", Mike Keller enthuses, "and if the spark of our enthusiasm is communicated to our audiences, be they new or established, young or old, then we will have newly achieved our aim on each occasion."

In «Smile», Chris & Mike are presenting their current concert programme, which is characterized by various musical styles and yet still in harmony with the total experience – PIANO ENTERTAINMENT in its purest form – swiss made!
